crusader kings 2 russian unit pack

wow!! dat a nice game there ;d. Simply put, one of the best series of all times, and this is the best game of the three. If you havent played them, do yourself a favor and get on it.. Just like all the other games in the ZUP! Series, it has the same mechanics and goal. The levels are fun and challenging and the replay-ability is always fun.. my childhood? I've been waiting to see more from these devs for a while now and i'm not dissapointed! This is a point-and-click adventure game like they used to play in my childhood. It looks good, it sounds good, the story's interesting, the characters are funny, there's skippable minigames (which i definitely needed lol), there's a talking robot owl who is your BESTFRIEND!! (there also might be a secret room...) I believe I played the prologue online and I noticed some very nice improvements!! I can't wait for the other acts, they're bound to be funny and entertaining as well!

Edit: Act II and III were as good as I expected them to be! There are certain (dialogue) mini-games which can be quite frustrating.. But there's a walkthrough in-game that point you in the right direction if you ever get stuck on them! I'm defintely looking forward to more of the Caos series! (I hope to see Mr. G soon too!). interesting game, but not suitable for players that are seeking excitement.. Dude, this game is awesome. I will definitely play through a second time. That one teleport is mindblowing and the end reminded me of something out of Dark Souls. I hope they make a sequel or a full game out of this.

I didnt think i would like that much this game!. Fun game and I don't even have a VR headset! w/o VR it reminds me of some of the old racing games showing off 3D tech, only with much better graphics. Weather you have a VR set or not, try this game out!. A good game to remember your childhood.. Funny light-hearted game. It's short and has a funny but quick story, not much else to say, your getting what you pay for but it's entertaining to say the least.. I wanted to really like this game...really wanted to. The graphics and game play are what you would expect for the targeted age group. There are issues with the envrionment graphics, however, as you can ghost into walls while driving and the boats, especially, don't always drive/float above the track/water. Interestingly, this does not seem to affect gameplay. My biggest gripe, however, is the horrible controls with a keyboard. The boats and planes taking a second to turn is understandable and more realistic but make it near impossible to complete some of the addtional challenges. No matter how the keys were defined, I was unable to use any power-ups or protections. This last part was not as much of a hinderance since the AI is targeted to a younger demographic and it is possible to finish with the maximum number of points by simply flying/driving smart.

I received this game as part of a bundle. If I had not, I would be displeased with its purchase. Once the keyboard issues are solved, I would recommend this game to any casual racer. Until then, I can see this causing frustration.
